Washington State Patrol's "Most Wanted" Arrest

Detectives from the Bellevue Criminal Investigation Unit announced the arrest of WSP Most Wanted suspect Stanley George Cross by the King County Sheriffs Office on Friday, October 29, 2004 at 3:00 p.m.

Cross was wanted for a vehicular assault that occurred on June 18, 2004 on State Route 164 near mile post 5 in King County. Cross had been drinking when he lost control of his vehicle and crossed the centerline sideswiping a van then hitting another vehicle head-on and severely injuring the driver. Cross was arrested and subsequently failed to appear at his arraignment in Superior Court.

Bellevue WSP detectives learned that Cross failed to appear and notified the Muckleshoot Tribal Police and the King County Sheriffs Office of Cross's listed address. The Deputies found Cross at his residence and arrested him without incident.

Cross is the 26th WSP Most Wanted Suspect arrested or located and brought to justice since the website was established in September of 2003.
